Kanata Theatre to present children's play

As a contribution to the Winter Carnival, Kanata Theatre will present a delightful play for the children of the community. "Many Moons" by James Thurber, directed by Brooke Keneford, will be presented at the Earl of March high school on February 19th and 20th, at 1:30 and 3:30 each day. Admission is 25 cents.

"Many Moons" tells the tale of a Princess who is ill and unhappy — but no one in the Palace can tell what is wrong with her. She doesn't eat — not even the tartar the Court Wismen have brought her — and the Royal Nurse chucks and fusses around her, taking her temperature and checking her pulse. The King is beside himself with worry, but although he commands his Wismen to "do something", they are no help at all. Eventually it is the Jester who is wiser than any of them, and it is he who discovers what will make the Princess happy again.

Those appearing in the cast are:
The King, Laurence Thornton;

Princess, Kathy McEachran;
Jester, Rosie Keneford; Nurse, Elsie Bryant; Cynicia, Lorna Phins; Paretta, Helen Hunter; Wizard, Ted Manger; Mathematician, Doug Strong; Goldsmith's Daughter, Jane Hawby; Chamberlain, Bob Knight.

We hope that our play will add to the fun and activity of the Winter Carnival and that everyone will have a Great Week!
