

Children's play featured Prince experiences growing pains

In rehearsal for The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow — a play for children, to be presented by Kanata Theatre at the Earl of March High School Nov. 26 and 27 at 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. From l. to r.: Gwendy Tolley, Jim Ritchie, Paula Wilkie and Andrea Tajraji.

Adults, accompanied by a child, will be admitted free to The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow. Kanata Theatre's play for children, to be performed Nov. 26 and 27 at the Earl of March High School.

Imagine anyone who won't grow? Especially a Prince? It's a real disaster for the King and Queen. They summon everyone they can think of who might be able to cure their son. Finally, the most obvious cure presents itself in a rather unusual way.

The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow is directed by Lane Freedman and produced by Rosemary Keneford.

Included in the cast are Greg Ramsey, Jim Ritchie, Paula Wilkie, Jim Cluff, Mary Anne Sigler, Steward Wheeler, Gwendy Tolley, Andrew Williams, Steve Dymont, Andrea Tajraji and Brian McCullough.

Performance times for both Saturday and Sunday are 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Christmas gifts or tinied goods for needy families will be accepted in the school foyer.

Tickets for The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow are available at the door. Admission for children is $2.

Rehearsals on for new play

Rehearsals are underway for Kanata Theatre's annual children's play. Directed by Lane Freedman, The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow will be performed Saturday, November 26 and Sunday, November 27 at 1:30 p.m. and 4 p.m. in the Earl of March auditorium.

It's a play that will appeal to everyone from the age of six to 100 and the cast is as follows: The Fool — Greg Ramsey, King — Jim Ritchie, The Queen — Paula Wilkie, The Prime Minister — Jim Cluff, Princess April — Mary Anne Sigler, The Prince — Steward Wheeler, Miss Maid — Gwendy Tolley, Appen — De Cudas, Andrew Williams, Feeder — Steve Dymont, Miss Information — Andrea Tajraji and General Retreat — Brian McCullough.

The cast for Kanata Theatre's second major production of the 1983-84 season is also busy rehearsing Mark January 18 to 21 on your calendar for a performance of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night and reserve your tickets now by phoning the box office at 592-1715.

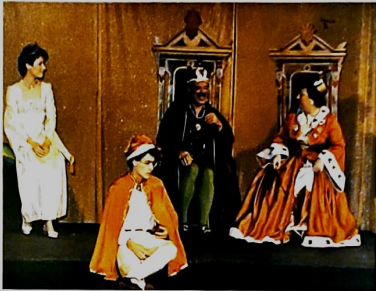

The Queen confronts the Prince, after he "grows" for the first time in years, during the Kanata Theatre's production of The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow.

photo Leslie Jones

The Kanata Theatre performs The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow for children at the Earl of March, Sunday, Nov. 27.

photo Leslie Jones

Children's play featured Prince experiences growing pains

In rehearsal for The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow ... a play for children, to be presented by Kanata Theatre at the Earl of March High School Nov. 26 and 27 at 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. From l. to r.: Gwendy Tolley, Jim Ritchie, Paula Wilkie and Andrea Fajrajsl.

Adults, accompanied by a child, will be admitted free to The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow ... Kanata Theatre's play for children ... to be performed Nov. 26 and 27 at the Earl of March High School.

Imagine anyone who won't grow? Especially a Prince? It's a real disaster for the King and Queen. They summon everyone they can think of who might be able to cure their son. Finally, the most obvious cure presents itself in a rather unusual way.

The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow is directed by Liane Freedman and produced by Rosemary Keneford.

Included in the cast are Greg Ramsey, Jim Ritchie, Paula Wilkie, Jim Cluff, Mary Anne Sigler, Steward Wheeler, Gwendy Tolley, Andrew Williams, Steve Dymont, Andrea Fajrajsl and Brian McCullough.

Performance times for both Saturday and Sunday are 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Christmas gifts or tinned goods for needy families will be accepted in the school foyer.

Tickets for The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow are available at the door. Admission for children is $2.

Rehearsals on for new play

Rehearsals are underway for Kanata Theatre's annual children's play. Directed by Liane Freedman, The Prince Who Woundn't Grow, will be performed Saturday, November 26 and Sunday, November 27 at 1:30 p.m. and 4 p.m. in the Earl of March auditorium.

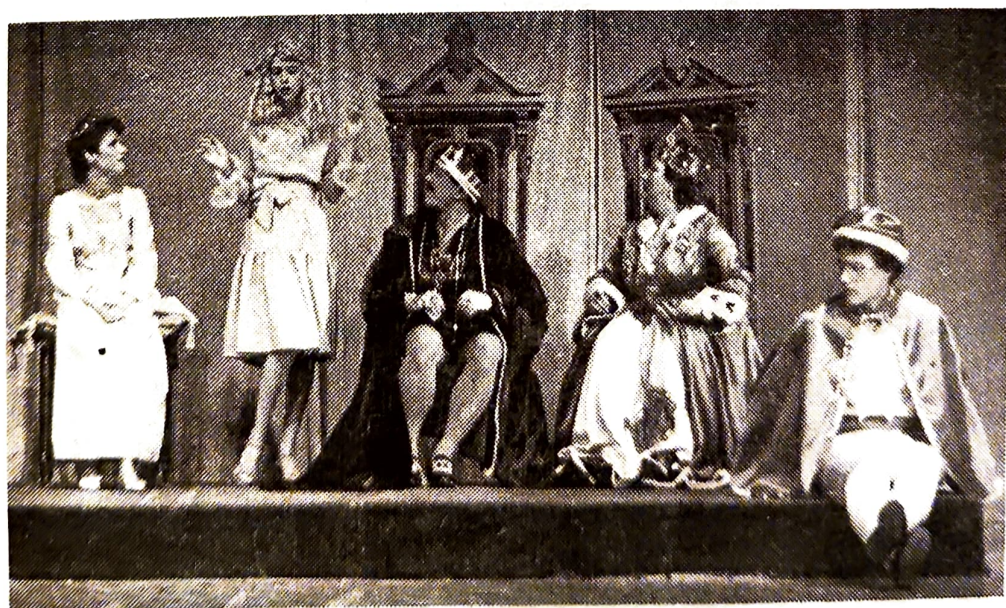

It's a play that will appeal to everyone from the age of six to 100 and the cast is as follows: The Fool - Greg Ramsey; King Pensiver - Jim Ritchie; The Queen - Paula Wilkie; The Prime Minister - Jim Cluff; Princess April - Mary Anne Sigler; The Prince - Stewart Wheeler; Miss Mated - Gwendy Tolley; Appen De Cidas - Andrew Williams; Ledger De Main - Steve Dymment; Miss Information - Andrew Fajrajsl; and General Retreat - Brian McCullough.

The cast for Kanata Theatre's second major production of the 1983-84 season is also busy rehearsing. Mark January 18 to 21 on your calender for a performance of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night and reserve your tickets now by phoning the box office at 592-1715.

The Queen confronts the Prince, after he "grows" for the first time in years, during the Kanata Theatre's production of The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow.

photo Leslie Jones

The Kanata Theatre performs The Prince Who Wouldn't Grow for children at the Earl of March, Sunday, Nov. 27.

photo Leslie Jones